A Message from Your President Jerry Dobyms

Welcome to August everyone. The months are going by too fast to suit me. They say when you are retired and a senior, time goes by faster. When you are still employed time seems to drag on. I have found this to be very true for Suzi and me. We will be here in Cayucos 10 years next June.

I want to thank Adrian for bringing in Judith and the Jazz Krewe. They played some old favorites even before my time. I tend to like music from the 50's and 60's but Judith and her group was very good as some of the group use to play with the Mudskippers and they were great also.

I want to thank Leonard Cicerello, Jim Watts, Ken Kaberline and John Edell and the rest of the kitchen crew and servers on the serving line. We couldn't pull this off without all of your help. Also special thanks to Janet Arnold our bartender for serving our beverages. The hamburgers and hot dogs and all the trimmings were great.

Just a few words about the Vets Hall. I attended a recent meeting with a few of our Lions and other Cayucos citizens concerning the construction of the Hall. It was a good meeting as there was good input from both the citizens of Cayucos and the County and Structural Engineers. They wanted to know what we wanted on the inside of the Hall. There were a number of things talked about and they wrote down the things we suggested be done. The biggest concern will be funding and time. Construction, when approved, won't start until October of 2019. And lastly, we hope to get enough money to do it.

A few words about the love of my life Suzi. She isn't doing well; she continues to lose weight and is very frail. I hope to get her to put on some weight and get stronger.

Will see you all at the next potluck on Wednesday August 9th. Happy August everyone.

Jerry

From the Desk of 1st VP Adrian Hurtado

August is already upon us. Seven months of 2017 down and five months to go.

The July luncheon of hamburgers and hotdogs was easily a senior summer favorite. People downed them as if they were on a grand picnic. Thanks to Leonard, Jim, and the rest of the crew for a festive fare.

Judith and the Jazz Krewe provided lively entertainment at the July luncheon. They were so well received that I had a request to book them for our December luncheon. The email has been sent to Judith and I am awaiting her reply. In the meantime, Dave Lavoy is on tap in August to play guitar and sing songs from the 60s and 70s.

The $125 attendance money did not go to Marlene Erickson because she was not present. Next month, the pot grows to $150. For the second consecutive month, Sierra McLees happily walked off with the 50-50 prize money. This time it was for $79. In the last month, she has won $139. That's better than the attendance draw. Congratulation.

Aside from the abundance of tourists in town and the Friday Farmers' Market on the corner of D Street and Ocean Avenue, there is little going on in Cayucos. I did hear that the Lioness Spaghetti Fundraiser is scheduled in August, but I do not have a definite date. Keep your ears and eyes open around town for information.

See you at the August 9 seniors luncheon.

Adrian

Last Table - Table 2 was the last table to be served in July and will be the first to be served in August. Ian Erickson and Al Piotrowski were seated at Table 2 last month.

A Little Humor

I heard this story many years ago and it is supposed to be true.

George Shearing, the famous piano player was blind. Being disabled, he boarded an airplane with his guide dog before the other passengers. As he was sitting and waiting, the airplane captain walked by and greeted Mr. Shearing, and asked if there was anything he could do for him.

Mr. Shearing asked the captain if he would walk his guide dog up and down the aisle until the other passengers boarded. The captain was agreeable to do the favor. Imagine the reaction of the first passengers who were boarding the airplane to see the captain walking with a guide dog.

Thrift Store News from Carla

Summer is here and we are busy. The 4th of July was truly a great day in our town, and a lot of tourists stayed in town looking for a treasure.

We have had some very special pieces donated that we were able to sell immediately. Thank you to those of you who have donated beautiful items.

We are fortunate to get advice from Don Rapp, a local dealer who brings us some nice pieces, plus researches some items in order to give us a better idea of how to price them.

We lost another dear friend of our Seniors group, Helen Hoel. She was a life member and she was beautiful inside and out. I know our drivers will miss taking her around.

Great news ... our Senior Center cook books are printed, thanks to Margaret Bretz and Tom Jasper, and everyone who contributed recipes. We have them on display, and we are selling them for $10.00. Margaret Ann will also bring them to the pot luck to make it easy for anyone to purchase one.

The Thrift Store needs a volunteer on Tuesdays from 1-4 and also needs plastic shopping bags.

I hope to see you around and in the store.

Info about Our Senior Pot Luck Luncheons

All members of the Cayucos Seniors are invited to the potluck which is held on the 2nd Wednesday of the month from noon to about 1:30pm in the Vets' Hall Tent. You may even bring a guest. The kitchen crew always cooks a main dish, but you may bring a side dish for 6-8 people.

Baskets are placed on each table for a $1 donation for each member and guest. An attendance drawing and 50-50 raffle are held to add a little excitement, and entertainment is always provided. Please bring your own place settings. Wine and soft drinks are available for a donation.

Next Senior Pot Luck Luncheon

Leonard Cicerello will prepare baked rosemary chicken and baked potato wedges for the next pot luck on Wednesday, August 9th.

The Birth of Cayucos

For the next several months, I will reprint articles from The Sandpiper from 1989. The articles tell how Cayucos was born. The original articles, which were published in the Sun-Bulletin in 1961 were written by Sam Borradori. Whenever I read something about the history of Cayucos, Mr. Borradori seems to be the main source. Reprinted with a little editing by Leonard Cicerello.

At the southerly end of the future town of Cayucos was located a thriving settlement called Old Creek. It was situated on a 30-acre parcel given the legal description of Lot 44 on the 1875 map of the subdivision of Rancho Morro y Cayucos. It was located at the strategic intersection of the San Luis Obispo-San Simeon Road and the road to Hot Springs, now known as Paso Robles. The four buildings are shown on an 1875 map and its location was downstream from the present Whale Rock Dam. It is sometimes referred to as Bain's Settlement.

The date of Old Creek's beginning is not known, but it probably started about 1855. Its first resident seems to have been John F. Bains, a schoolteacher, who was later joined by George Stone. It was the earliest polling place for the Morro Precinct, which covered the entire coastal area from the Pacific Ocean to the summit of the Santa Lucia Range, and from the San Luis Obispo to the San Simeon Precincts, which extended as far north as the Monterey County line.

A general merchandise store provided a convenient trading place for the large number of settlers on the fertile government land lying outside the two Mexican ranchos. It also provided a Stage Depot, saloon, eating place, and overnight accommodations for travelers to and from San Simeon, San Luis Obispo, and Hot Springs (Paso Robles), either by private conveyance or the stage line that also carried mail.
